Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of the Board of Directors of Canada Gives:

Qualified Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Canada Gives (the "Foundation"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2020, and the statements of changes in net assets, operations, and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, except for the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion section, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Foundation as at December 31, 2020, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

The Foundation holds significant investments which earn income in the form of dividends, interest and realized and unrealized changes in market value. We were unable to obtain audit evidence about the allocation of income and changes in market value as management does not record investment income by type. Consequently, we were unable to determine whether any adjustments to these allocations were necessary. Our audit opinion on the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 was modified accordingly because of the possible effects of this limitation in scope.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Foundation in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Matter

We have not audited, reviewed or otherwise attempted to verify the accuracy or completeness of the schedules on pages 17 through 32 of Canada Gives' financial statements.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Foundation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Foundation's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Foundation's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Foundation to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Canada Gives Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended December 31, 2020

1. Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Organization

Canada Gives (the "Foundation") was incorporated under the Canada Corporation Act by letters patent on June 6, 2005. The Foundation was registered as a charity on August 10, 2005 (registration number 833062144 RR0001) and has been designated as a public foundation. It is also considered a registered charity under the Income Tax Act and is therefore exempt from income tax under subsection 149(1)(f).

The Foundation was formed to support and promote charitable giving in Canada.

The Foundation's donor advised funds (DAF) provide a charitable giving vehicle for donors with major gifts as a simpler and less costly alternative to creating their own separately registered private foundations. Donors provide direction for donations to be held in their named donor advised fund account and set their own charitable giving strategies for the Foundation to execute. Funds are disbursed from each DAF account as grants to other Canadian registered charities and qualified donees.

In 2012, the objects of the Foundation were amended to permit it to also relieve poverty in developing countries through education, health care, support of agriculture, economic development activities for persons in need and by providing basic amenities to the poor. These activities are being executed through the Foundation's Global Projects Initiative.

With the launch of the Global Projects Initiative, donor advised funds are also used for specific foreign charitable projects. Gifts may be received into each DAF account from another Canadian foundation or donor. Funding is disbursed from each Global Project DAF account to pay bills on an instalment basis, until completion of each international charitable project.

Basis of Accounting

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

1. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Fund Accounting

The Foundation follows the restricted fund method of accounting for donations.

The unrestricted general fund consists of donations, gifts from other registered charities, other revenues and related expenditures pertaining to the operations of the Foundation. Additionally, any gains resulting from the disposition of donated securities are recorded as revenue in the unrestricted general fund.

The restricted global projects funds include donations designated by contributors for the Global Projects Initiative that are to be used for specific development projects, which are managed by the Foundation.

The restricted donor advised funds include donations held in the contributor's named donor advised fund accounts and disbursed as grants to Canadian qualified donees or disbursed to pay insurance premiums on life insurance policies which Canada Gives is a beneficiary of, from time to time, as recommended by the contributor. Additionally, any proceeds resulting from donated life insurance policies are recorded as revenue in the restricted donor advised fund.

Revenue Recognition

Receipted donations and non-receipted gifts from other registered charities are recognized as revenue in the appropriate fund in the year received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Contributed goods and services are not recorded in the financial statements of the Foundation.

Net investment income, administrative cost recoveries and other income are recorded when earned.

Restricted Cash and Investments

Restricted cash and investments relate to amounts that have been externally restricted by the donor. The use of these funds is overseen by the board of directors of the Foundation, who ensure the amounts are utilized in line with the wishes of the donor, which may extend beyond the next fiscal year. The restricted cash consists of cash in financial institutions. Restricted investments consist of fixed income securities, stocks and mutual funds, which are all recorded at fair value.

Financial Instruments

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value when acquired or issued. In subsequent periods, equities traded in an active market are reported at fair value with any unrealized gains and losses reported in operations and equities not traded in an active market would be reported at cost. In addition, management has elected to carry its restricted investments traded in an active market at fair value, with the changes in fair value reported in operations. All other financial instruments are reported at cost or amortized cost less impairment, if applicable. Financial assets are tested for impairment when changes in circumstances indicate the asset could be impaired. Transaction costs on the acquisition, sale or issue of financial instruments are expensed for those items remeasured at fair value at each statement of financial position date and charged to the financial instrument and amortized on a straight-line basis for those measured at amortized cost.

Capital Assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization based on the estimated useful life of the asset is calculated as follows:

Furniture and equipment	Declining balance	30%
Computer equipment	Declining balance	100%
Leasehold improvements	Straight-line	4 years

Amortization in the year of acquisition is calculated using the half year rule.

Foreign Currency Translation

Foreign currency accounts are translated into Canadian dollars as follows:

At the transaction date, each asset, liability, revenue and expense is translated into Canadian dollars by the use of the exchange rate in effect at that date. At the year end date, monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currency are translated into Canadian dollars by using the exchange rate in effect at that date. The resulting foreign exchange gains and losses are included in income in the current period.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The principal estimates used in the preparation of these financial statements are the fair values of financial instruments, accrued liabilities, useful lives of capital assets and present value of the executive severance liability. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates as additional information becomes available in the future.

In addition, effective January 1, 2013, if the Executive Director's contractual compensation is unable to be paid in full on a current basis, the unpaid amount is to be added to the aforementioned compensation obligation. 7. Financial Instrument Risk

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Foundation encounters difficulty in meeting its obligations associated with financial liabilities. Liquidity risk includes the risk that, as a result of operational liquidity requirements, the Foundation will not have sufficient funds to settle a transaction on the due date; will be forced to sell financial assets at a value which is less than what they are worth; or may be unable to settle or recover a financial asset. Liquidity risk arises from accounts payable and accrued liabilities, government remittances payable and executive severance liability. The Foundation manages this risk through the monitoring of cash activities and expected outflows, maintaining liquidity in the investment portfolios and not disbursing grant payments until funds are received.

Market Risk

Market risk includes exposure to fluctuations in market values, currency rates and interest rates. The Foundation is exposed to fluctuations in equity markets and in valuations of private companies on its investments. It mitigates this risk through investing in lower risk securities and diversification of the investment portfolios. Donors select their investment portfolio managers, subject to investigation and the board of directors' approval. This investment policy considers market risk and the Foundation has mitigated this risk to the financial statements as a whole.

Foreign Exchange Risk

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Foundation is exposed to foreign currency risk as it has cash in foreign denominations. The Foundation considers this risk to be low and therefore does not hedge its foreign exchange rate risks.

At December 31, 2020, the company held cash in US Dollars of $141,065 (2019 - $41,403). These assets have been translated to Canadian dollars for financial statement purposes at the year-end rate of 1.2732 (2019 - 1.2988).

There have been no changes to the Foundation's financial instrument risk exposure from the prior year.

Canada Gives Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended December 31, 2020

8. Life Insurance Policies

In 2017, Canada Gives entered into Co-Ownership and Nominee Agreements for 14 separate life insurance policies held at 3 different insurance institutions. To date, the donor has agreed to donate Canada Gives' portion of the annual premiums. Total premium payments for the year were $2,386,000 (2019 - $2,386,000) covering the period up to March, 2021. As a result, the portion of the premiums related to 2021 totalling $576,997 (2019 - related to 2020 totalling $583,534) have been included as a prepaid expense on the Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2020.

According to the Co-Ownership and Nominee Agreement the Charity can provide notice to the other co-owner and the nominee corporation that it will not pay any additional premiums in connection with the life insurance policy (the "Policy"). In such circumstances, the Charity will become the owner of a fully paid up interest in the Policy with a death benefit equal to the amount for the particular year, with no further requirement to pay any premiums.

Subsequent to year end, Canada Gives was notified that the donor will no longer be covering the annual premiums.

As of December 31, 2020, Canada Gives' death benefit entitlement on these insurance policies was $63,327,749 (2019 - $53,994,233).

During the year the foundation received a new donation of a life insurance policy valued at $223,800. A premium payment of $25,000 was paid during the year from the assets in the DAF account.

9. Interfund Transfers

During the year, the Foundation's board of directors approved a transfer in the amount of $111,825 from the restricted donor advised funds to the general fund related to HST rebates received on investment management fees which are part of the general fund.

Additionally, during the year, a transfer in the amount of $144,010 was approved from the restricted donor advised fund to provide funding for a global project that began this year.

10. Subsequent Event

Subsequent to year end the Foundation sold the real estate included in Investments at $1,600,000 for $2,200,000. The gain will be reported as income in restricted funds in the year ending December 31, 2021.

Canada Gives Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended December 31, 2020

11. Uncertainty Due to COVID-19

The COVID-19 global pandemic has disrupted economic activities and supply chains. Although the disruption from the virus is expected to be temporary, given the dynamic nature of these circumstances, the duration of business disruption and the related financial impact cannot be reasonably estimated at this time. The Foundation's ability to continue to service debt and meet lease and other obligations as they come due is dependent on the continued ability to generate earnings and cash flows, including the use of existing credit facilities.
